UNI Students Picket Air Base

(COURIER NEWS SERVICE)

WAVERLY — Six students from the University of Northern Iowa — described as "hippie types" — picketed Armed Forces Day ceremonies at the Air Force Base near Waverly after completing a tour of the base Saturday.

Asked what they thought of the tour and the base, one of the students said, "Oh, it was very nice."

Then they went outside the base to Hwy. 218, and the four male students carried signs, one of which read, "War may be hazardous to your children."

The two girls sat in the car.

Asked to Leave

The Highway Patrol came, checked the students' identity cards and asked them to leave.

About 500 persons attended the abbreviated Armed Forces Day ceremonies in Saturday's cold, blustery rain. Originally about 2,500 were scheduled to attend, but the tornadoes that struck Northeast Iowa Wednesday cancelled many plans.

Games Canceled

Cancellations included the mock war games planned as part of the ceremonies.

The Iowa Army National Guard units and their equipment, scheduled to participate, were occupied with clean-up activities at Charles City and Oelwein.

Air Force personnel at the Waverly base also responded to a call to the two stricken cities within half an hour after the tornadoes struck. The airmen served there about a day until other sources of help adequately responded and then, as required by regulations returned to the base.

The ceremonies Saturday consisted of tours of the base and a formal retreat.

Bus Tours

Tours of the base are scheduled regularly, and groups wishing to visit the radar station may write or telephone the Waverly Air Force Station, 50677, care of the information officer or Lt. Silverstein.

After congressional plans to close various Military installations throughout the country are effected, the air base at Waverly will be the only remaining active duty military installation in Iowa.
