

STATE OF MICHIGAN

Executive
Office

Jennifer M. Granholm
Governor

On behalf of the citizens of Michigan, I, Governor Jennifer M. Granholm, do hereby proclaim the week of February 7, 2010,

National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Weather Radio Awareness Week

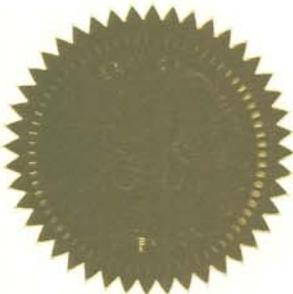

Whereas, Severe weather, in the form of thunderstorms, wind storms, floods and tornadoes is a threat to the safety and welfare of all Michigan citizens; and,

Whereas, Each year in the state of Michigan, there are many reports of personal injury or property damage due to winter storms that bring extreme cold, freezing rain, ice and snow; and,

Whereas, The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Weather Radio in an all hazardous radio network, broadcasts warnings and post-event information 24-hours a day for all types of hazards, including both natural and technological; and,

Whereas, The National Weather Service and emergency management officials are cooperating to educate the public about the potentially life-saving information broadcast on the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Weather Radio network;

Now, Therefore, be Resolved, That I, Jennifer M. Granholm, governor of the state of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the week of February 7, 2010, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Weather Radio Awareness Week in Michigan. I urge all residents of the state of Michigan to learn more about protecting themselves, their families and their homes.

Jennifer M. Granholm
Governor
