

Weather Briefing

October 31, 2014

National Weather Service

Detroit/Pontiac, MI

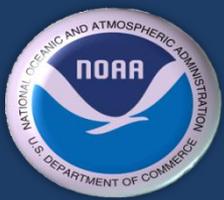

<http://www.weather.gov/dtx>

Email: w-dtx.webmaster@noaa.gov

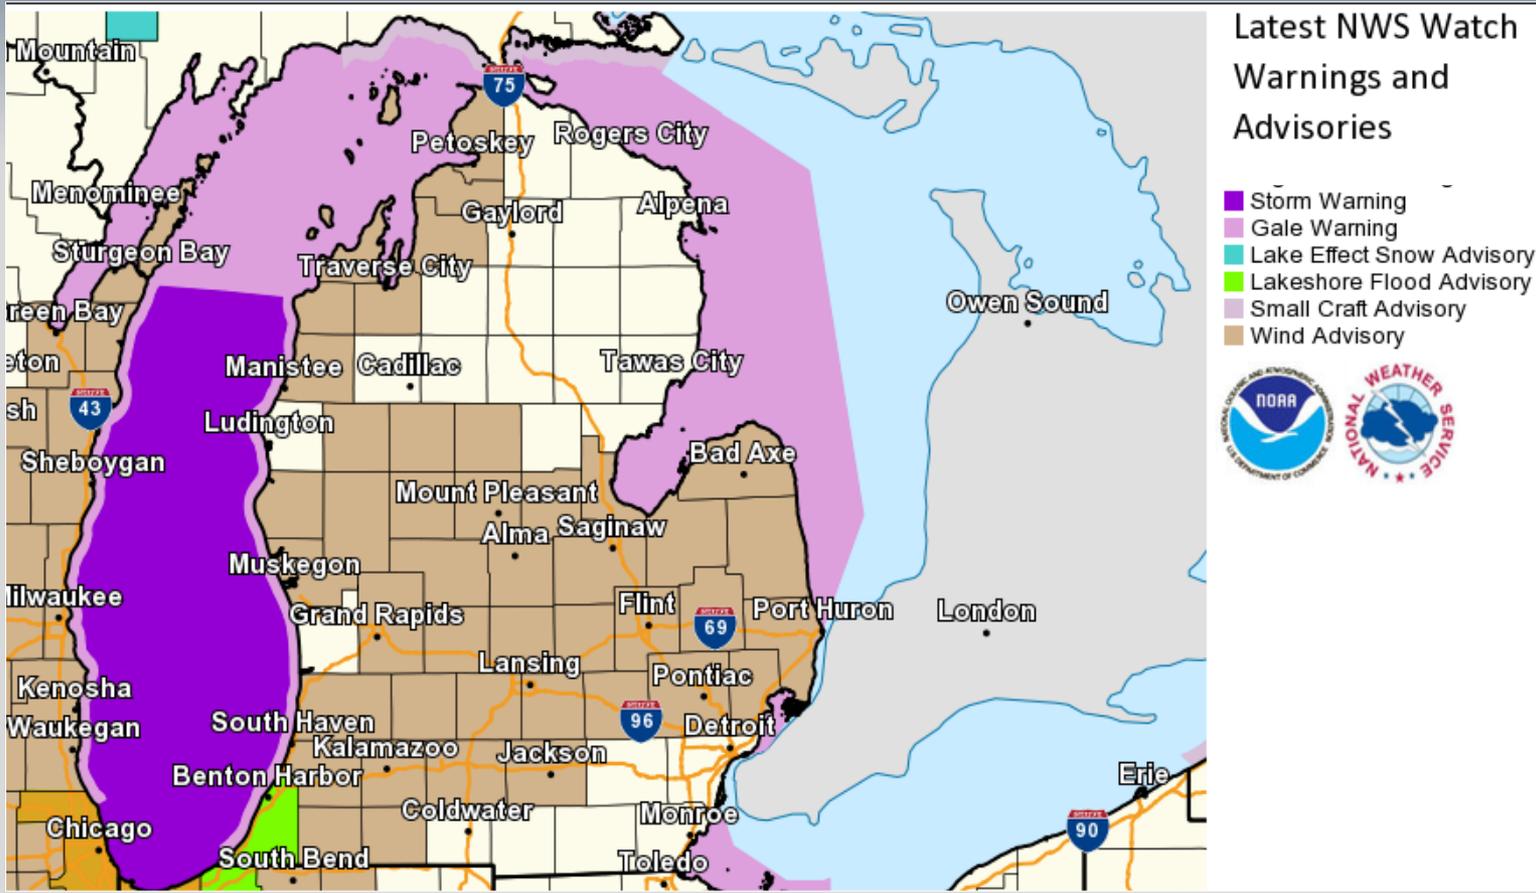

Find us on
Facebook

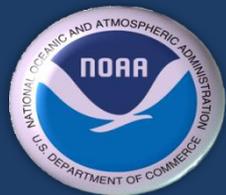

Weather Briefing

Very Windy Today

Wind Advisory along and North of the M-59 Corridor 4 PM-12 AM EDT Today.
Gale Warnings for Lake Huron, Lake St. Clair, Western Lake Erie into early Saturday.

Weather Briefing Highlights

Strong Winds, Cold Temperatures, and Light Snow

What

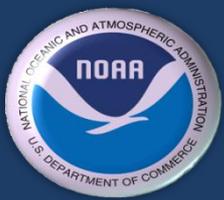

- Wind gusts to 45 mph from M-59 Northward, with gusts to 50 mph near the shoreline of Lake Huron (Wind Advisory Area)
- Wind gusts to 40 mph over Wayne, Washtenaw, Monroe, and Lenawee Counties
- Strong winds and incoming cold air will drop wind chills into the 20s by this evening
- Minor snow accumulations possible late today and tonight, mostly on grassy and elevated surfaces (cars, mailboxes). Roads should be OK.

When

- Late this afternoon through tonight

Where

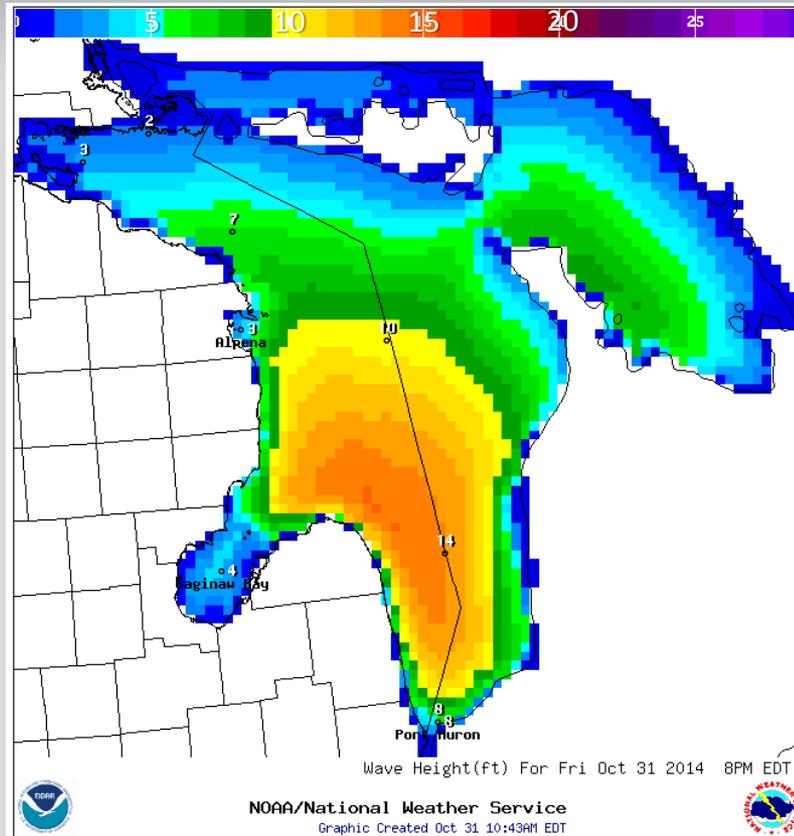

- Lower Michigan

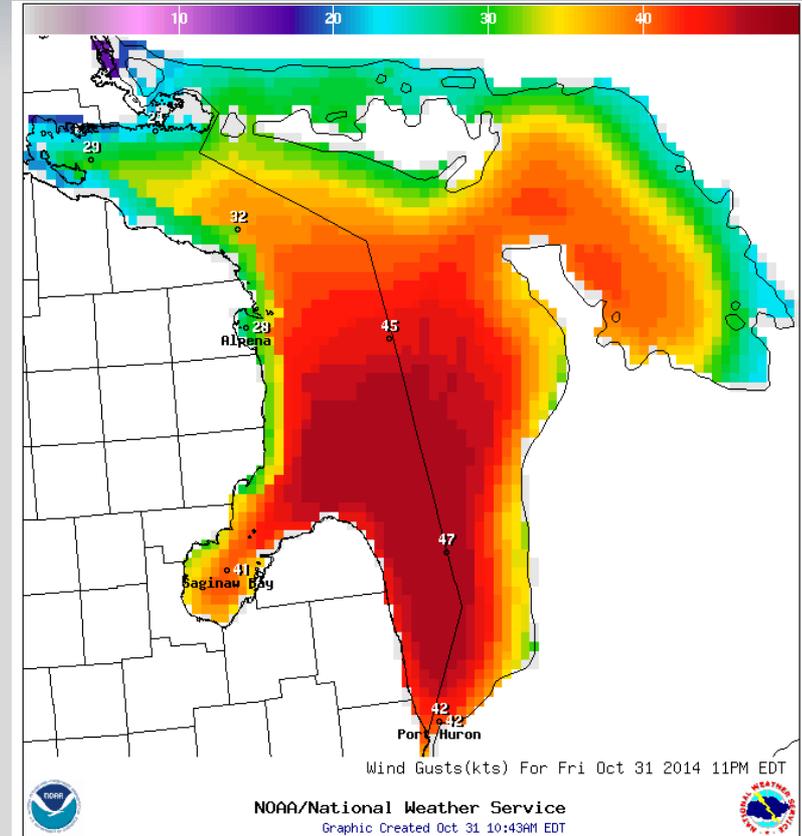

Weather Briefing Lake Huron Hazards

Wave Heights at 800 PM EDT

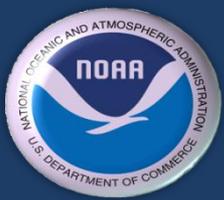

Wind Gusts at 800 PM EDT

Winds and wave height peaking over the northern 1/3 of the lake this afternoon, and over the southern portion of the lake this evening.

Gale Warnings into Saturday

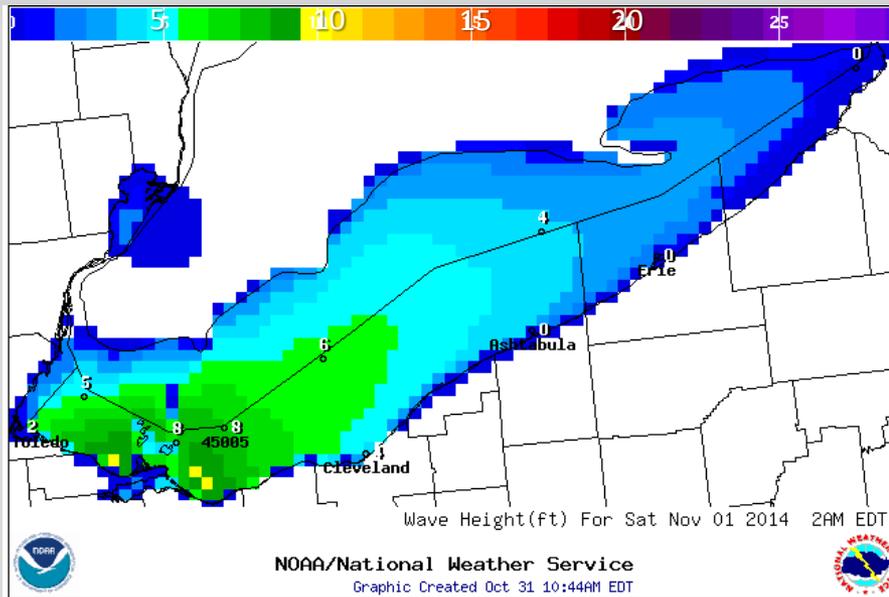

Weather Briefing

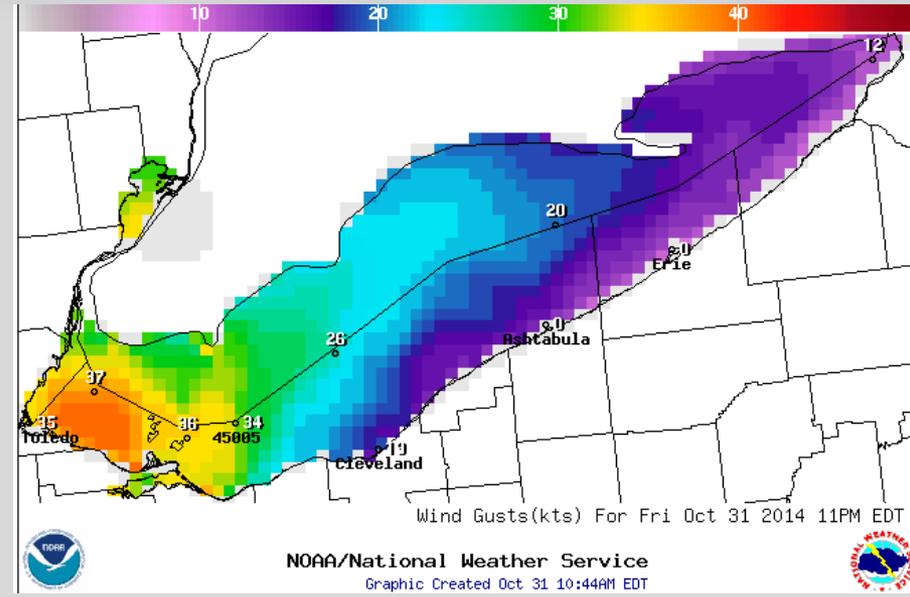

Lake St. Clair and Lake Erie

Wave Heights at 1100 PM EDT

Wind Gusts at 1100 PM EDT

Winds and wave heights peaking late this evening.
Gale Warnings through early Saturday

Additional Information

Local Hazards Page

<http://www.weather.gov/detroit/svr.php>

Latest Wind Probability Graphics

<http://www.crh.noaa.gov/dtx/?n=pwind>

Latest Wind Snowfall Forecast

<http://www.crh.noaa.gov/dtx/snowfall.php>

Great Lakes Marine Portal

<http://www.crh.noaa.gov/greatlakes/>

NWS Detroit/Pontiac, MI

<http://www.weather.gov/dtx>

Email: w-dtx.webmaster@noaa.gov

Find us on
Facebook

